"Corten steel, also known as Cor-ten or weathering steel has been a favorite with architects and landscape designers for its durability and modern industrial look.

Over time the corten steel develops a golden brown rust patina that protects the planter from corrosion. Durability is another reason corten planters are an excellent choice for gardening. Unlike painted planters that are susceptible to scratching of the paint from shovels and other garden tools, corten is far more resistant to scratches and dents. If by chance one manages to scratch the corten planter the steel will patina over in a matter of weeks back to a smooth, even texture whereby concealing all visible marks and scratches. Further, corten planters can be left outside in all seasons and will not crack from cold or heat." (<https://niceplanter.com/blog-planters/>)

Anglo - Welcome

Arapaho - Welcome

Wouukohei (man speaking)

Kiowa - How wonderful to meet you.

Háundéóñ:dè èm k'áu:[dè

Mouache Ute - how are (you); hello, hi

(The language of the Utes is Shoshonean)

hakaniyun

Hispano - Welcome

La Bienvenida

Cheyenne - hello and goodbye

"Haaahe."

There is a Cheyenne expression which is often used by men, which is a kind of greeting. It is "Haaahe." It has no word meaning, but, does still have important social meaning of recognition, solidarity, friendship. It is only used by a man toward another man.
